

3 Jurors Absent; Chelsea Trial Held Up

VOL. 22—No. 274

Copyright, 1926, by The American Evening Bostonian

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE WHO THINK

BOSTON, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1926

NIGHT LATEST

TWO CENTS WORTH IN NEWS OF 3 CENTS

Very Latest News

"JOBBER SHIPPERS" TO AID FORD
Washington, Feb. 11 (A.P.).—A charge that the Shipping Board "jobbed" other buyers so that the Ford Motor Company would purchase 200 ships was made today before the Senate Commerce Committee by L. E. Meyer, a Baltimore attorney.

While trying to keep warm with a gas heater in his room while he slept, Sergin Gonsalves was overcome by carbon monoxide gas and was found dead in bed today by his niece, Mrs. Mary Smith, with whom he lived at No. 111 Brooks street, East Boston. Gonsalves, who was fifty-two years old and married, left windows and door closed tightly after he lighted the gas heater upon retiring. Police, called by Mrs. Smith, worked over his body for an hour, but were unable to revive him.

RUMOR COOLIDGE IS IN COAL WAR PEACE MOVE
Scranton, Pa., Feb. 11 (A.P.).—Rumors of new moves to end the hard coal strike became more persistent today. No one appeared to know where or how the reports originated. The report had it that President Coolidge had sent mediators to the leaders of the miners and operators and that a new peace plan was being

Today

Come and Bring Your Money
Raising Carpenters
Silly Newspaper Talk
By Arthur Brisbane

HOOVER, CAL., Feb. 11.—This is written on the Mojave Desert, fourteen miles west of Harston, sixty miles east of the Pacific Ocean, and two thousand feet above the ocean.

A wind, full of life, blows steadily from the southwest. The purple hills of this desert stand out against a beautiful sky, and the Mojave River, flowing out of the night, a few feet below the surface, is ready, when you start pumping, to make of this desert the most fertile region on earth.

IF YOU were here, you would wire home, prepare to move, move, find how much you can sell the place for, and soon you would be busy, as your narrator now is, buying land, and hauling carpenters out here from Los Angeles.

The day for making vines is past, but all along the perfect road from Los Angeles to this spot, plans and vines have been progressing rapidly for a perfect school for young children.

A colony for those that have moderate incomes and would like to earn in comfort part of what it costs to live, and a dozen other vines and plans.

THERE ARE millions of beautiful places in this nation and in this great West. None better than this. Come out here. Look at it, and bring your money with you.

This is a happy land, and up to date in everything. Near Victorville, 23 miles west, a happy gentleman calls his lot "Tut's Tomb." It is a fertile region, one that will populate itself in spite of immigration restrictions.

MRS. CARDOSA, of Merced, Calif., says Mr. Cardosa for divorce, as they do "sometimes, even out here, tells the judge she wants Mr. Cardosa to support twelve of her excited children. She is willing to take care of the other five, which seems fair enough.

Think of the houses that will be built by Mrs. Cardosa's thirteen boys, when they grow up to be good carpenters and get a dollar an hour.

IT SEEMS not worth while to talk of happenings in other parts of the world when you are here.

The wild douglars that roam the desert, descendants of animals hunted until when Indians murdered prospectors, seem more important than today's Wall Street closing. But those days were "silly" European and Washington, D. C. statesman ship, and your mind wanders away from this real world to the East. Famine and murder in Red Russia. Starting peasants slay Communist officials and plunder grain stores. So it reads in the news leading, prepared to suit an editor not quite sure of American common sense, and determined to hold up horrible war-torn.

RUSSIAN PEASANTS are having a chance for the first time in Russia's history, which they were once slaves, everybody knows that. But Russia gets even, in her silly Communist press, with our sillier capitalist press. The Bolsheviks today are reading that American wives and children of striking coal miners are dying of hunger in thousands.

Perhaps they read that our coal barons use the dead bodies for fertilizer. We swallowed such yarns about the Germans and worse. One striker's wife did die of hunger. A few Russian peasants may be very hungry, through crop failure, which is bad enough. But millions died of starvation in India and in Ireland without Bolsheviks to help.

ITALY'S AMBASSADOR has left Berlin and D'Annunzio has left. Continued on Page 10, Column 4

—An Extra Car
is as useful as an extra automobile

Two automobiles will clear a walk quicker than one. It's just as true that the car can't succeed in light car when your heavy car can't.

Especially when real bargains in good Used Cars are offered daily in this newspaper's

Classified Ads
On the next to the last page

4 SHIPS LOST IN STORM

Coast Guards Fight to Save Wrecked Crew

TROY AND BRITT KILLED

BOY THUGS SENTENCED TOMORROW

Worcester, Feb. 11.—In a sealed verdict handed in today, a Superior Court jury found Johnny Troy and Dennis J. Britt, automobile thugs, guilty on all charges of robbery and larceny.

The verdict was reached last night after the jury had deliberated five hours, and was a surprise to both defendants. Judge Nelson P. Brown will impose the sentence tomorrow.

Attorney George Foley, counsel for Britt, immediately filed a petition for a new trial. Troy and Britt, at one time known as the "Phantom Thugs of Worcester County," went on trial last week. They were arrested in Auburnville on their way to the office of Attorney William R. Scharton, chief counsel for Troy, after taking part in a series of robberies that terrorized Worcester County last August.

Following the completion of the government's case, Attorney Scharton moved for a directed verdict of not guilty on all except one count for his client, and Attorney Foley, for Britt, asked a directed verdict on all counts.

Judge Brown denied both motions, and the defense counsel took exception.

DELAY RUM CASE AGAIN

The Chelsea rum conspiracy trial at the Federal Building was held up for several hours today, as three of the jurors were unable to reach Boston because of the storm.

Judge George Tracy, who lives in Cohasset, intended to send the night in Boston to be sure to be in time today, but "he" he was informed that trains would probably be running on schedule time he went to his home.

Today, however, he found that the train was very much behind schedule, and he was delayed several hours.

The two other jurors held up by train delays were Thomas F. Pickering of Fall River and Oliver M. Cobb of Norwood.

SHE LOST HUSBAND VIA PARIS

Mrs. George A. Percy, wife of a Boston businessman, shown here with her son, George A. Jr., is on the ocean on her way home, and has learned by radio that a divorce has been granted her since she left Paris, last Saturday. Before her marriage she was Miss Halile Davis, a Dixie beauty, and is a niece of Mrs. Stephen B. Eldins, widow of the West Virginia Senator.

SHEIK TAXI THUG IS SOUGHT IN 2 HOLDUPS

Police are checking up every taxi driver and owner in an effort to capture the sleek taxi chauffeur who, early today, pulled off two arched holdups, fired a shot at one of his victims, and then escaped at the driver's seat of the taxi.

The taxi-thug first appeared in the fruit store of George T. Sings at No. 108 Tremont street, Roxbury. Leaving a revolver at Sings, he leveled a revolver at Sings, and then ordered him to hold up his hands. Sings obeyed, and the taxi-thug fled.

'DUCHESS OF ALCOHOL'
Tells Own Story
See Page 3

GALE RAGES AT SEA AS E. DIGS OUT OF SNOW; 12 LIVES LOST

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 11 (A.P.).—An unidentified ship is ashore on the south side of Sable Island, off the Nova Scotian coast. Lifeboats have put off in an attempt to reach her.

While a great storm still raged at sea today, Greater Boston and New England, waist-deep in snowdrifts, struggled to shake off the devastating effects of the second big snowfall of the winter.

Twelve persons are dead in New England as a result of the storm on land and off the coast. Many others, both men and women, are suffering from serious storm-injuries and a Boston railroad employee is dying at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Three ships were dashed ashore and the wrecks brought death to three seamen and narrow escapes to many more.

Two coast guard patrol boats went around today, swept before a stiff gale, and the crew of one of them, the CG 124, saved their lives only by swimming ashore at Narrowsmouth Pier and taking refuge from the bitter cold in the poor shelter of an unheated laundry attached to a closed-up summer residence.

Two trains are still buried in

Continued on Page 4, Column 1.

TRAFFIC NEARS NORMAL, NEW HAVEN STILL LAGS

Transportation conditions on the various steam and electric systems were reported as follows today by railway officials:

New York, New Haven & Hartford—Trains still being consolidated; serious trouble on the Cape suburban branch, on reduced schedule, getting through with slight delay.

Boston Elevated—Conditions normal.

Boston & Maine—Trains a little late, but practically all local and through trains getting through on near-schedule time. Rapidly approaching normal.

Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn—Back to normal.

Boston & Albany—Trains considerably to some extent and running a few minutes late; all through trains leaving on regular schedule time.

Providence & Worcester—Trains

on schedule.

Stamford & Waterbury—Trains

on schedule.

Stamford & Waterbury—Trains

on schedule.

Stamford & Waterbury—Trains

on schedule.

Stamford & Waterbury—Trains

on schedule.

Stamford & Waterbury—Trains

on schedule.

Stamford & Waterbury—Trains

on schedule.

Stamford & Waterbury—Trains

on schedule.

Stamford & Waterbury—Trains

on schedule.

Stamford & Waterbury—Trains

on schedule.

The American's Paid Circulation Is More Than 750,000 Greater Than That of Any Other Boston Evening Paper

WOMEN COOPED IN TRAIN TIUP 26 HOURS

Most of Time Without Food
on Storm Trip From
Plymouth to Hub

Twenty-six hours on a train from Plymouth to Boston and for 13 hours without food was the experience of Mrs. J. Dowdell of No. 1302 Commonwealth avenue, who together with a number of other women, people completed the trip at South Station today.

Mr. Dowdell, who is a representative of Lamont & Corbin, No. 40 in the street, boarded the New Haven train at 6:45 yesterday morning in Plymouth and reached his destination at 8:25 a. m. today.

"In all my years of traveling," said Mr. Dowdell to the Boston Evening American, "I never had such an experience. For nearly 13 hours we were without food, and then we managed to get coffee and sandwiches at the Plymouth station. "I was in Plymouth on business and was anxious to get back to Boston, so I took the early train. It was made up at Plymouth, and the railroad men looked on two engines to pull the four coaches. Then they put a snow plow in front and started. We got as far as Hingham, six miles away, when the engines were derailed in a huge snowbank and there we stuck for six hours. There were about seventeen people on the train, the majority of them people who had been entertaining the likes at Plymouth.

The well in the snow drift was not so bad, as the train was fairly warm, and at the end of six hours three engines ran down from Plymouth and drew us back there. Then the big war began.

"Every little while someone would come in and announce that the train would start shortly. It got dark, however, and eventually everyone went to sleep huddled in the seats, ATTEMPTING IN KIMONOS.

Some of the actresses made themselves comfortable by pulling on kimonos, and managed to pass the night in fairly good condition. We managed to get coffee and sandwiches at a little stand outside the Plymouth station, and they kept us from starving.

"Early today after working all night with plows, the railroad people got the train started, and we arrived at South Station at 8:25 this morning.

"Throughout the entire period we were without washing facilities, and everyone was grimy and dirty on arrival at Boston. It had not been for the coffee and sandwiches we might have starved. As it was the experience was the most painful I have ever had, and it may have been far worse for the women on the train."

BE A WOMAN BOOSTER

File's Basement advertisement has been on this page almost daily for 16 years. Now, so that this page may be devoted entirely to news, File's Basement advertisement will be found almost daily on Page 4.

SCARLET BRAND STIRS IRE OF COUNTLESS BARRED FROM SHORES AS 'DIVORCEE'

MRS. P. GORDON CARR, COUNTESS CATHCART, LADY DELIA HUNTINGTON

The Countess is photographed with two friends. Today she probably will be given the partnership for the action of the immigration authorities in barring her from entering the country.

EVERETT UP IN SHEIK THUG, IN ARMS OVER TAXI, BOBS STORES
OIL BLASTS

Residents of South Everett plan to take action today looking to relief from alleged fire and explosion hazard following the blow-up of the Boston Oil Company, on Beach street on the banks of the Mystic River.

The whole city was rocked and people living near the oil company's plant were thrown into a state bordering on panic when the safety tap on one of a battery of high-pressure drums, or stills, in which crude gasoline is re-refined, exploded with a roar which was heard in neighborhood of feet in the air when the highly volatile gasoline became kindled.

Scenes of men, women and children

"WHY PICK ON ME?" COUNTESS ASKS

"Because she was divorced" is the only reason given by the Immigration Department for refusing her to enter the United States. There are millions of divorced women in the world, she says.

LET HIM WHO IS WITHOUT SIN CAST THE FIRST STONE.

COUNTNESS OF CRAVEN

The Countess of Craven is reunited with the Earl of Craven and they are at present in Bermuda—Photo by Arne.

EARL OF CATHCART

He has no time in securing a divorce after the Countess fled to Africa with the Earl of Craven.—Photo by United.

BRITAIN SEEKS TO LAND VERA IN AMERICA

New York, Feb. 11 (Universal).—The continued detention of Vera Countess of Cathcart, on board the Carmania today became an international and a national incident.

The immigration authorities withheld permission for the ship-borne bounty to land when the liner docked Tuesday. They gave as a reason that she had been divorced.

Secretary Davis became personally interested in the countess' case, he was in constant communication with Commissioner of Immigration Curran, though at a late hour no decision had been reached.

It is planned to bring the countess before the board of immigration today at Ellis Island, where she will have a hearing simultaneously with five others detained on the same ship for various reasons.

The British authorities have taken up the matter in Washington. They informed the State Department that after examination of the countess and her papers they could see no reason for the action of the immigration authorities.

In an exclusive interview, the countess said:

"The most unpleasant part of the affair is that I fear my career as a woman may have been ended in London. I don't want to appear as an adventuress.

"As a matter of fact, I think I had more courage than many women. I never continued to live with my husband and taken an interest in another man at the same time."

THIS WIFE CAN'T LOAF ON HUSBY'S ALIMONY

Jersey City, Feb. 11.—"No robust young woman should be permitted to live in luxury on alimony supplied by an ambitious husband," Vice-Chancellor Fletchling has ruled. She allowed Mrs. Louis Latis $11 a week, a small part of her husband's income.

WOMEN COOPED IN TRAIN TIUP 26 HOURS

Most of Time Without Food on Storm Trip From Plymouth to Hub

Twenty-six hours on a train from Plymouth to Boston and for 13 hours without food was the experience of Mrs. J. Dowdell of No. 1302 Commonwealth avenue, who together with a number of other women, people completed the trip at South Station today.

Mr. Dowdell, who is a representative of Lamont & Corbin, No. 40 in the street, boarded the New Haven train at 6:45 yesterday morning in Plymouth and reached his destination at 8:25 a. m. today.

"In all my years of traveling," said Mr. Dowdell to the Boston Evening American, "I never had such an experience. For nearly 13 hours we were without food, and then we managed to get coffee and sandwiches at the Plymouth station. "I was in Plymouth on business and was anxious to get back to Boston, so I took the early train. It was made up at Plymouth, and the railroad men looked on two engines to pull the four coaches. Then they put a snow plow in front and started. We got as far as Hingham, six miles away, when the engines were derailed in a huge snowbank and there we stuck for six hours. There were about seventeen people on the train, the majority of them people who had been entertaining the likes at Plymouth.

The well in the snow drift was not so bad, as the train was fairly warm, and at the end of six hours three engines ran down from Plymouth and drew us back there. Then the big war began.

"Every little while someone would come in and announce that the train would start shortly. It got dark, however, and eventually everyone went to sleep huddled in the seats, ATTEMPTING IN KIMONOS.

Some of the actresses made themselves comfortable by pulling on kimonos, and managed to pass the night in fairly good condition. We managed to get coffee and sandwiches at a little stand outside the Plymouth station, and they kept us from starving.

"Early today after working all night with plows, the railroad people got the train started, and we arrived at South Station at 8:25 this morning.

"Throughout the entire period we were without washing facilities, and everyone was grimy and dirty on arrival at Boston. It had not been for the coffee and sandwiches we might have starved. As it was the experience was the most painful I have ever had, and it may have been far worse for the women on the train."

BE A WOMAN BOOSTER

File's Basement advertisement has been on this page almost daily for 16 years. Now, so that this page may be devoted entirely to news, File's Basement advertisement will be found almost daily on Page 4.

WOMEN COOPED IN TRAIN TIUP 26 HOURS

Most of Time Without Food on Storm Trip From Plymouth to Hub

Twenty-six hours on a train from Plymouth to Boston and for 13 hours without food was the experience of Mrs. J. Dowdell of No. 1302 Commonwealth avenue, who together with a number of other women, people completed the trip at South Station today.

Mr. Dowdell, who is a representative of Lamont & Corbin, No. 40 in the street, boarded the New Haven train at 6:45 yesterday morning in Plymouth and reached his destination at 8:25 a. m. today.

"In all my years of traveling," said Mr. Dowdell to the Boston Evening American, "I never had such an experience. For nearly 13 hours we were without food, and then we managed to get coffee and sandwiches at the Plymouth station. "I was in Plymouth on business and was anxious to get back to Boston, so I took the early train. It was made up at Plymouth, and the railroad men looked on two engines to pull the four coaches. Then they put a snow plow in front and started. We got as far as Hingham, six miles away, when the engines were derailed in a huge snowbank and there we stuck for six hours. There were about seventeen people on the train, the majority of them people who had been entertaining the likes at Plymouth.

The well in the snow drift was not so bad, as the train was fairly warm, and at the end of six hours three engines ran down from Plymouth and drew us back there. Then the big war began.

"Every little while someone would come in and announce that the train would start shortly. It got dark, however, and eventually everyone went to sleep huddled in the seats, ATTEMPTING IN KIMONOS.

Some of the actresses made themselves comfortable by pulling on kimonos, and managed to pass the night in fairly good condition. We managed to get coffee and sandwiches at a little stand outside the Plymouth station, and they kept us from starving.

"Early today after working all night with plows, the railroad people got the train started, and we arrived at South Station at 8:25 this morning.

"Throughout the entire period we were without washing facilities, and everyone was grimy and dirty on arrival at Boston. It had not been for the coffee and sandwiches we might have starved. As it was the experience was the most painful I have ever had, and it may have been far worse for the women on the train."

BE A WOMAN BOOSTER

File's Basement advertisement has been on this page almost daily for 16 years. Now, so that this page may be devoted entirely to news, File's Basement advertisement will be found almost daily on Page 4.

WOMEN COOPED IN TRAIN TIUP 26 HOURS

Most of Time Without Food on Storm Trip From Plymouth to Hub

Twenty-six hours on a train from Plymouth to Boston and for 13 hours without food was the experience of Mrs. J. Dowdell of No. 1302 Commonwealth avenue, who together with a number of other women, people completed the trip at South Station today.

Mr. Dowdell, who is a representative of Lamont & Corbin, No. 40 in the street, boarded the New Haven train at 6:45 yesterday morning in Plymouth and reached his destination at 8:25 a. m. today.

"In all my years of traveling," said Mr. Dowdell to the Boston Evening American, "I never had such an experience. For nearly 13 hours we were without food, and then we managed to get coffee and sandwiches at the Plymouth station. "I was in Plymouth on business and was anxious to get back to Boston, so I took the early train. It was made up at Plymouth, and the railroad men looked on two engines to pull the four coaches. Then they put a snow plow in front and started. We got as far as Hingham, six miles away, when the engines were derailed in a huge snowbank and there we stuck for six hours. There were about seventeen people on the train, the majority of them people who had been entertaining the likes at Plymouth.

The well in the snow drift was not so bad, as the train was fairly warm, and at the end of six hours three engines ran down from Plymouth and drew us back there. Then the big war began.

"Every little while someone would come in and announce that the train would start shortly. It got dark, however, and eventually everyone went to sleep huddled in the seats, ATTEMPTING IN KIMONOS.

Some of the actresses made themselves comfortable by pulling on kimonos, and managed to pass the night in fairly good condition. We managed to get coffee and sandwiches at a little stand outside the Plymouth station, and they kept us from starving.

"Early today after working all night with plows, the railroad people got the train started, and we arrived at South Station at 8:25 this morning.

"Throughout the entire period we were without washing facilities, and everyone was grimy and dirty on arrival at Boston. It had not been for the coffee and sandwiches we might have starved. As it was the experience was the most painful I have ever had, and it may have been far worse for the women on the train."

BE A WOMAN BOOSTER

File's Basement advertisement has been on this page almost daily for 16 years. Now, so that this page may be devoted entirely to news, File's Basement advertisement will be found almost daily on Page 4.

WOMEN COOPED IN TRAIN TIUP 26 HOURS

Most of Time Without Food on Storm Trip From Plymouth to Hub

Twenty-six hours on a train from Plymouth to Boston and for 13 hours without food was the experience of Mrs. J. Dowdell of No. 1302 Commonwealth avenue, who together with a number of other women, people completed the trip at South Station today.

Mr. Dowdell, who is a representative of Lamont & Corbin, No. 40 in the street, boarded the New Haven train at 6:45 yesterday morning in Plymouth and reached his destination at 8:25 a. m. today.

"In all my years of traveling," said Mr. Dowdell to the Boston Evening American, "I never had such an experience. For nearly 13 hours we were without food, and then we managed to get coffee and sandwiches at the Plymouth station. "I was in Plymouth on business and was anxious to get back to Boston, so I took the early train. It was made up at Plymouth, and the railroad men looked on two engines to pull the four coaches. Then they put a snow plow in front and started. We got as far as Hingham, six miles away, when the engines were derailed in a huge snowbank and there we stuck for six hours. There were about seventeen people on the train, the majority of them people who had been entertaining the likes at Plymouth.

The well in the snow drift was not so bad, as the train was fairly warm, and at the end of six hours three engines ran down from Plymouth and drew us back there. Then the big war began.

"Every little while someone would come in and announce that the train would start shortly. It got dark, however, and eventually everyone went to sleep huddled in the seats, ATTEMPTING IN KIMONOS.

Some of the actresses made themselves comfortable by pulling on kimonos, and managed to pass the night in fairly good condition. We managed to get coffee and sandwiches at a little stand outside the Plymouth station, and they kept us from starving.

"Early today after working all night with plows, the railroad people got the train started, and we arrived at South Station at 8:25 this morning.

"Throughout the entire period we were without washing facilities, and everyone was grimy and dirty on arrival at Boston. It had not been for the coffee and sandwiches we might have starved. As it was the experience was the most painful I have ever had, and it may have been far worse for the women on the train."

BE A WOMAN BOOSTER

File's Basement advertisement has been on this page almost daily for 16 years. Now, so that this page may be devoted entirely to news, File's Basement advertisement will be found almost daily on Page 4.

WOMEN COOPED IN TRAIN TIUP 26 HOURS

Most of Time Without Food on Storm Trip From Plymouth to Hub

Twenty-six hours on a train from Plymouth to Boston and for 13 hours without food was the experience of Mrs. J. Dowdell of No. 1302 Commonwealth avenue, who together with a number of other women, people completed the trip at South Station today.

Mr. Dowdell, who is a representative of Lamont & Corbin, No. 40 in the street, boarded the New Haven train at 6:45 yesterday morning in Plymouth and reached his destination at 8:25 a. m. today.

"In all my years of traveling," said Mr. Dowdell to the Boston Evening American, "I never had such an experience. For nearly 13 hours we were without food, and then we managed to get coffee and sandwiches at the Plymouth station. "I was in Plymouth on business and was anxious to get back to Boston, so I took the early train. It was made up at Plymouth, and the railroad men looked on two engines to pull the four coaches. Then they put a snow plow in front and started. We got as far as Hingham, six miles away, when the engines were derailed in a huge snowbank and there we stuck for six hours. There were about seventeen people on the train, the majority of them people who had been entertaining the likes at Plymouth.

Machine Gun Is Latest Chicago Gang Weapon

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Showered off shotguns, revolvers, rifles and black-balls are obsolete in Chicago gangland. Now machine guns, mounted on buildings, are used to carry out the plans of the leaders.

This developed as police and detectives started a hunt for the gunmen responsible for the shooting at the saloon of M. L. Costello. Two men were wounded, one seriously, by the deadly steel-jacketed bullets.

Many prominent members of the hierarchy will be among the victims. A down cardinal will be targeted by the mob to visit the Congress. The housing committee has about completed its task of providing suitable accommodations for the princes of the church and their allies. Besides the French legation and the cardinal from Italy, cardinals from various other countries will attend.

INTERNATIONAL DELEGATES. A letter received by the committee from the Very Rev. James Kilkenny, O. S. B. of Warsaw, Poland, said that the Archbishop Edward Joseph Tadeusz of Lublin, the bishop of Lodz and the bishop of Katowice with six monsignors and a number of pastors of Warsaw, will come to the congress.

Delegates from each of the sixty dioceses of Spain also will attend, according to information sent to the Rev. Francis Bruzwick of the Spanish Catholic church in Chicago.

At least 700 are expected from Spain, and a party of 300 pilgrims will come from Belgium. Two large train-attaches liners have been chartered to bring the pilgrims from Germany. A large number of priests and sisters will come from Mexico. Special trains will be run from the Mexican capital. A number of Slovak bishops also will be in the Congress.

THE OFFICIAL POSTER HAS BEEN SELECTED FROM DRAWINGS SUBMITTED BY ARTISTS FROM VARIOUS PARTS OF THE COUNTRY. THE WINNER OF FIRST PRIZE, THOMAS A. O'BRIEN, A CHICAGO ARTIST, CHOOSING AN EXEMPLIFICATION OF THE EUCCHARISTIC, OR SACRED HOST, IN A GOLDEN MONUMENT, AND THE ENTIRE PICTURE.

Second choice for the official poster was submitted by Sister M. Cyrillus, of the Order of St. Dominic.

George, Cardinal Mundelein, of the archdiocese of Chicago, is sponsor of the congress. Over 500 are expected to attend from Boston, and Thomas Cook & Co. have charge of transportation.—Photo by Lavetch.

WOMEN COOPED IN TRAIN TIUP 26 HOURS

Most of Time Without Food on Storm Trip From Plymouth to Hub

Twenty-six hours on a train from Plymouth to Boston and for 13 hours without food was the experience of Mrs. J. Dowdell of No. 1302 Commonwealth avenue, who together with a number of other women, people completed the trip at South Station today.

Mr. Dowdell, who is a representative of Lamont & Corbin, No. 40 in the street, boarded the New Haven train at 6:45 yesterday morning in Plymouth and reached his destination at 8:25 a. m. today.

"In all my years of traveling," said Mr. Dowdell to the Boston Evening American, "I never had such an experience. For nearly 13 hours we were without food, and then we managed to get coffee and sandwiches at the Plymouth station. "I was in Plymouth on business and was anxious to get back to Boston, so I took the early train. It was made up at Plymouth, and the railroad men looked on two engines to pull the four coaches. Then they put a snow plow in front and started. We got as far as Hingham, six miles away, when the engines were derailed in a huge snowbank and there we stuck for six hours. There were about seventeen people on the train, the majority of them people who had been entertaining the likes at Plymouth.

The well in the snow drift was not so bad, as the train was fairly warm, and at the end of six hours three engines ran down from Plymouth and drew us back there. Then the big war began.

"Every little while someone would come in and announce that the train would start shortly. It got dark, however, and eventually everyone went to sleep huddled in the seats, ATTEMPTING IN KIMONOS.

Some of the actresses made themselves comfortable by pulling on kimonos, and managed to pass the night in fairly good condition. We managed to get coffee and sandwiches at a little stand outside the Plymouth station, and they kept us from starving.

"Early today after working all night with plows, the railroad people got the train started, and we arrived at South Station at 8:25 this morning.

"Throughout the entire period we were without washing facilities, and everyone was grimy and dirty on arrival at Boston. It had not been for the coffee and sandwiches we might have starved. As it was the experience was the most painful I have ever had, and it may have been far worse for the women on the train."

BE A WOMAN BOOSTER

File's Basement advertisement has been on this page almost daily for 16 years. Now, so that this page may be devoted entirely to news, File's Basement advertisement will be found almost daily on Page 4.

WOMEN COOPED IN TRAIN TIUP 26 HOURS

Most of Time Without Food on Storm Trip From Plymouth to Hub

Twenty-six hours on a train from Plymouth to Boston and for 13 hours without food was the experience of Mrs. J. Dowdell of No. 1302 Commonwealth avenue, who together with a number of other women, people completed the trip at South Station today.

Mr. Dowdell, who is a representative of Lamont & Corbin, No. 40 in the street, boarded the New Haven train at 6:45 yesterday morning in Plymouth and reached his destination at 8:25 a. m. today.

"In all my years of traveling," said Mr. Dowdell to the Boston Evening American, "I never had such an experience. For nearly 13 hours we were without food, and then we managed to get coffee and sandwiches at the Plymouth station. "I was in Plymouth on business and was anxious to get back to Boston, so I took the early train. It was made up at Plymouth, and the railroad men looked on two engines to pull the four coaches. Then they put a snow plow in front and started. We got as far as Hingham, six miles away, when the engines were derailed in a huge snowbank and there we stuck for six hours. There were about seventeen people on the train, the majority of them people who had been entertaining the likes at Plymouth.

The well in the snow drift was not so bad, as the train was fairly warm, and at the end of six hours three engines ran down from Plymouth and drew us back there. Then the big war began.

"Every little while someone would come in and announce that the train would start shortly. It got dark, however, and eventually everyone went to sleep huddled in the seats, ATTEMPTING IN KIMONOS.

Some of the actresses made themselves comfortable by pulling on kimonos, and managed to pass the night in fairly good condition. We managed to get coffee and sandwiches at a little stand outside the Plymouth station, and they kept us from starving.

"Early today after working all night with plows, the railroad people got the train started, and we arrived at South Station at 8:25 this morning.

"Throughout the entire period we were without washing facilities, and everyone was grimy and dirty on arrival at Boston. It had not been for the coffee and sandwiches we might have starved. As it was the experience was the most painful I have ever had, and it may have been far worse for the women on the train."

BE A WOMAN BOOSTER

File's Basement advertisement has been on this page almost daily for 16 years. Now, so that this page may be devoted entirely to news, File's Basement advertisement will be found almost daily on Page 4.

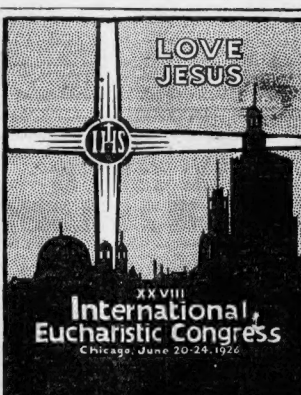

PRIZE WINNING POSTERS ANNOUNCE GREAT CATHOLIC EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS AT CHICAGO

The greatest event in Catholic history on the western hemisphere will be the Eucharistic Congress which will be held at Chicago in June 20-24, 1926. The poster is shown above.—Photo by Lavetch.

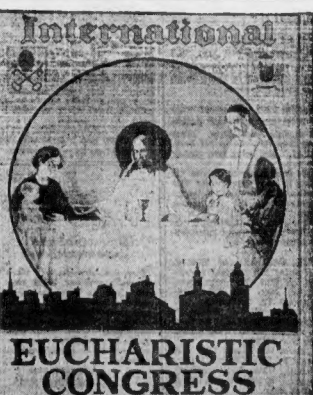

The congress, which will be attended by delegates from all over the world, is under direction of the Rt. Rev. Edward Hoban, auxiliary bishop of the Chicago diocese.—Photo by Lavetch.

Second prize poster was submitted by Sister M. Cyrillus, of the Order of St. Dominic, instructor of art at St. Catherine's Academy, Racine, Wis., and is a striking symbol of the eucharistic of the church. A down cardinal will attend the congress, having been appointed by Pius XI. A Papal legate will be present.—Photo by Lavetch.

George, Cardinal Mundelein, of the archdiocese of Chicago, is sponsor of the congress. Over 500 are expected to attend from Boston, and Thomas Cook & Co. have charge of transportation.—Photo by Lavetch.

The third poster in the contest was submitted by Walter C. Krawiec, an artist on the Caledonian, the Polish Catholic daily of Chicago. Interest in the event is indicated by the fact that special trains will be run from Mexico to bring the pilgrimage from there.—Photo by Lavetch.

"DUCHESS of ALCOHOL" By Hilda Stone
Federal Prisoner

By Hilda Stone
Federal Prisoner

Hilda Under Fire of Cops in Daring Night Getaway

SYNOPSIS
Hilda Stone of West Halloway, Vt., formerly a stenographer in Athol, Mass., young, pretty and educated, turned bootlegger to help her husband out of a financial squeeze in his lumber business.
In the early six chapters of Hilda's thrilling story, which started

A Paper That Goes Into the Home, Dependable, Fearless, Entertaining and Instructive

BOSTON AMERICAN
EVENING
A HOME PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE WHO THINK

BOSTON, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1926

GENERAL NEWS SECTION

UNCOVER MILLIONS IN TAX FRAUDS

Posed by Betty Scott and Cornelius Roddy of "The Poor Nut" Co., Hollis Street Theatre.
Photo by Charles G. Snyder.

ALICE SEEN SHOPPING WITH KIP

Mrs. Rhinelander's Lawyer Admits the Pair Might Be Reconciled

New York, Feb. 10.—Reconciliation and reunions subsequent to famous legal battles seem to be getting contagious. Settling of their differences by James A. Stillman, the millionaire banker, and Anne Urquhart Stillman, was followed to day by generally credited reports that Leonard Kip Rhinelander, the wealthy young sprig of the old New York family, had rejoined his colorblind bride, Alice Jones Rhinelander. The report concerning the reconciliation of the Rhinelanders came from Harlem, where the heads of several of the high class shops in the colored sections stated that they had seen together last night during the past few days.

BARES LOVE NOTES OF MILLIONAIRE

Mrs. Addie L. B. Jones, 37, is suing John Thwaites 50, for breach of promise. She is shown in the courtroom with her 18-year-old daughter, Zeporah, at left.

STUDENTS CHEER TEACHER WHO DEFENDED WOMAN

Belfast, Me., May 11.—Frederick E. Raynes, of Melrose, Massachusetts, and teacher in the Seaboard High school, was cheered by the students today though only yesterday he had been arraigned on the charge of shooting seriously Raymond G. Packard, with whom he boarded.

Raynes is in the local hospital with two bullets in his body, but had Mrs. Packard's revolver in his room, and he grasped this when Packard charged in pursuit of his wife.

In the struggle that followed the gun went off twice, though Raynes said he did not pull the trigger.

On bullet lodged in Packard's throat, the other in his chest. Packard will recover.

SURGEON DIES, MARTYR TO HIS PROFESSION

Philadelphia, Feb. 11 (A.P.)—Dr. Felix A. Murphy is dead, a martyr to his profession. Infected a week ago while operating on a scarlet fever patient, he diagnosed his own case and said that he would not recover. In an effort to save his life an arm was amputated as he directed.

IN DEEP DRIFTS SEEK MISSING PATIENT

Searching parties of police and citizens of North Reading started out today over the snow-covered countryside in search of Samuel Schwartz who escaped from the State Sanitarium, bare-footed and clad only in night clothing and a blanket, in the height of the storm last night.

The snow, which continued to fall for some hours after the man had left the hospital, obscured his tracks, and the search will be largely a matter of luck if successful.

The police do not believe that the man can be alive. He is 33 years old, five feet one inch in height, and his weight is about 125 pounds.

"SPRING HAS COME!" SING HARROWING FARMERS
Calgary, Alta., Feb. 11 (A.P.).—Farmers are beginning Spring work in this vicinity. Near Calgary Junction they have begun to harrow their plowed ground.

ALMA SPRECKELS HURT

Los Angeles, Feb. 11 (A.P.)—Miss Alma Spreckels, San Francisco horsemwoman, sustained a wrenched knee when her mount, Domino, fell in a jumping event at the Los Angeles National Horse Show. Despite her injury she rode from the arena. Her mount took third place.

By HILDA STONE,
"Duchess of Alcohol."
 narrated in Washington County Jail to Bert Ford, author of "The Fighting Yankees Overseas," and staff correspondent of the Boston Evening American.
 Copyright, 1934, Boston Evening American. Reproduction Prohibited.

CHAPTER X

Montpelier, Vt., Feb. 11.—Pop liked Harry Murdock at the first glance. I felt certain he would. Everybody likes Murdock. That proved another asset for me. He made friends fast, even among the border patrols and the acquaintances thus made up were valuable at times.

I decided to smuggle champagne exclusively this trip as Frank's Boston orders called for it. I joshed him about it. I reminded him that it was so near June that his tony friends were probably laying in supplies for weddings.

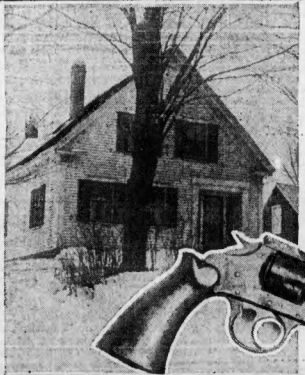

Pop was pleased to have me order thirty-six cases. He wanted to know where I counted on tucking it and grinned when I showed him the false bottom on the coach.

(Continued on Page 16, Column 1)

STUDENTS CHEER TEACHER ACQUITTED OF SHOOTING MAN IN PROTECTING LATTER'S WIFE

Priscilla Packard, at left, and her sister, Pauline, children of the couple whose domestic quarrels led to shooting in Bearmont, Mo., at which teaching is acquitted.

Home of Raymond G. Packard, where he is alleged to have threatened to kill his wife before he was wounded by gun in struggle with teacher.

Mrs. Ruth Plaisted Packard, formerly of Melrose, Mass., accuses husband of threat to kill her.

Room in their home at Searsmont, where, Mrs. Packard charged her husband held her prisoner three hours after she had discovered love letters from other women in his pocket.

Frederick E. Raynes, acquitted of the shooting and cheered by students for defense of woman.

IRONSIDES GETS BACK LANTERN DENIED FORD

Nashua Man Refuses $5,000 for Whale-Oil Burning Relic; Will Grace Old Position

With all his millions, Henry Ford, who is stocking up the famous Wayside Inn at Sudbury with antiques, could not buy an old whale-oil lantern which hung aloft in "Old Ironsides," before the advent of kerosene and electricity.

And all because George E. Kimball, electrical engineer and contractor of flying street, Nashua, N. H., has no such patriotism; he intends to give the old lantern to the United States Navy officials to hang again in the famous old frigate when she is reconstructed.

The Boston Evening American's action in throwing open its columns to help raise funds for reconstruction of the famed warship is highly praised by Mr. Kimball.

Despite the fact that the old whale-oil lantern is valued at $5,000, Mr. Kimball placed personal above commercial by declining to sell it to either Mr. Ford for his private museum, or to Congressman Watson, who asked for it for a national museum.

"I feel that the place for the old lantern is back on the old ship when she is restored," said Mr. Kimball.

"I am heartily in sympathy with the efforts of the Boston Evening American to raise funds for the restoration of the ship, which should be used for all time as a national shrine."

"My father served as a battery clerk in the U. S. navy, and recovered the lantern from the ship's wreckage after the battle of Fort Fisher, when the whale-oil lanterns were changed for kerosene fuel ones. The story of this old lantern is told by my wife in verse. The volunteer she speaks of was my dad."

Continued on Page 18, Column 6.

SOMERVILLE GARAGE FUMES VICTIM TO LIVE

Everett D. Klein, 23, of No. 435 Broadway, Somerville, was overcome by exhaust fumes from several trucks with motors running in the garage at No. 23 Myrtle avenue, East Somerville. He was removed to his home by Jacob Price and Dr. R. J. MacDonald, of Bedford street, summoned. He will recover.

OLD IRONSIDES RELIC TO BE RESTORED

FRANCO TO FLY TO NEW YORK

Buenos Aires, Feb. 11 (A.P.)—"I have arrived."

This was the laconic message sent by Commander Ramon Franco to King Alfonso of Spain shortly after Franco's arrival here from Montevideo, Uruguay, on the last stage of his flight from Potos, Spain, to the Argentine capital.

The 8,232 miles were flown by the seaplane Plus Ultra in 52 hours 22 minutes. Franco and his companions were given an ovation by thousands of the people of Buenos Aires.

The flight from Montevideo to Buenos Aires was made in 1 hour and 20 minutes, notwithstanding the fact that the seaplane was forced to come down as a leak in the water tank could be stopped.

Francisco said today that he would send to King Alfonso a proposal to continue the flight from Buenos Aires to New York. He added that the Plus Ultra was in splendid condition.

He said he desired to return to Spain by way of the South American west coast, crossing the southern Andes and visiting Chile, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia, Cuba and the United States. He was awaiting official authorization for the flight, he added, but had been privately informed that his plans would be approved.

CHINESE WOODS ROXBURY GIRL

New York, Feb. 11.—Harry Law, a Chinese, has found the law a stumbling block twice within a few weeks. Jan. 12, he was sent into the Mann act, and he was denied a license to marry Virginia Talleferro, 18, the girl with whom he is alleged to have run away.

The romance began in Roxbury, Mass., early in January. The couple came to New York on Sunday, Jan. 10, they were found at a house on Forsyth street. Law was arraigned under the Mann Act. Today after talking to Assistant United States Attorney Cavanaugh, Law decided to marry the girl. But the law stepped in again. Virginia is only sixteen, and she has not her mother's consent to wed. New Virginia must go back to Roxbury to obtain her mother's consent.

HUNT MISSING HOSPITAL MAN

A search was started today to locate Edgar R. Wilson, former registrar in the Veterans' Hospital, West Roxbury, who has been missing since February 1.

It is alleged that an audit of the books of the hospital has shown there is a shortage in the funds belonging to disabled veterans. The department of justice is conducting the search for Wilson. It was announced at the hospital that the veterans would not lose a penny of their money, as bonding companies already have signified their intention of making good any shortage.

Wilson's home is in Ardmore road, West Roxbury. His wife said that she was in ignorance of his whereabouts, but despite the

GIRL OF THREE ACCEPTED IN PAYMENT OF BILL

Cleveland, O., Feb. 11 (Universal).—Jenna A. Drake accepted Winifred Hipwell, a thirteen-year-old girl, as payment for a grocery bill. The girl's parents had been thrown out of employment and it became necessary for them to search for work in some other city.

By arranging around the couple paid all of their bills except that owed to Drake. Then it was that not been paid.

charges that have been made, she expressed her implicit confidence in her husband, and said she believed he will return voluntarily and clear the situation.

Mr. Wilson said that her husband left home at the usual time on the morning of February 1 to report for duty at the hospital. She had no intimation that anything was wrong until inquiry was made from the hospital later in the day.

FORD CLOSED CARS CUT

A big reduction in the price of two closed car models and a material lowering on the price of a third closed car model on Ford goes into effect today.

The announcement of the sweeping reductions was made by Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Co.

The biggest reduction, one of $15, is made in the price of the Ford sedan. The price is dropped from $450 to $435.

A reduction of $50 is made in the price of the Tudor sedan. The price is dropped from $100 to $50. The price of the coupe is reduced from $125 to $100.

BE A BOSTON BOOSTER

GILCHRIST CO.

The NAVY leads in Spring's color procession!

Misses', Women's and Extra Size Smart Spring Frocks

$15.75

MIAMI ROSE	MARIE ANTOINETTE	CORNICHE	LOVE BIRD
PALMETTO GREEN	HYDRANGEA	BLACK	COPPER
THISTLEDOWN GRAY	SEA FOAM	CAPRI	VERMONT GREEN
LOGARNO BLUE	FIANCEE	SETTING SUN	NAVY BLUE

Misses' Modes—Navy taffeta with georgette, flat crepe, the new prints! Trimmings include ribbons, embroidery, gilt and silver stitchery.

Women's Fashions—Straight lines or flares! Georgette with silk slips! Smart new prints. Clever sleeves!

Extra Size Styles—Georgette, prints, flat crepe, in becoming and appropriate styles—many especially smart for shorter figures.

Tucked cuffs, lantern puffs, taffeta with georgette.

Guaranteed—Full Fashioned—Silk Stockings

$1.25

Gun Metal Atmosphere Champagne Beige Peach Toast Gravel Zinc

Fine even weave silk in the season's smart colors is rare at this low price—BUT it is a regular combination at Gilchrist's. Tops and soles are like for added strength.

Talc Rouge Powder 49c

A Special Offer!

VIVADOU Lady Mary

Because the manufacturer is discontinuing these particular containers, this complete set is offered at a price that is less than the former cost of the face powder alone! The set includes a full size box of face powder, a sprinkler top container of imported talcum powder and a pocket style metal case of rouge with mirror.

STREET FLOOR

GILCHRIST'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

Remember! Legal Stamps Mean 2 Percent Additional Saving!

NO MAIL ORDERS
FRIDAY AT 9 A. M. IN THE ANNEX
At a Very Low Price as Tempting as the SMOCK Vogue Itself!

Smocks for Every Woman!

Thousands of business girls, college girls, office girls, school girls, artists, telephone operators, and women at home wear them!

Double breasted models; gay cretonnes; black cotton sateen, many with cretonne collar and cuffs; colored cotton pongette; blue, green, coral, tan, orchid, or honey dew.

Boston's Only Self-Acting Reduction Basement Giving Legal Stamps

Smart in line! smart in fabric! the FROCK for indoors and out!

Embroidered Jersey Dresses $15—for Misses—for Women

New features smartly combined in these tiny little frocks for distinctive wear right now and a trim, modish street appearance in spring! Mandarin neck, sleeves and pockets with worried embroidery in colors.

Other one and two-piece jerseys $10.95 to $27.50

February brought new styles in the very smart Franchette modes!

Frocks! $33—for Misses—for Women

The name that marks the choice of 15 leading American stores, shown exclusively at Gilchrist's in Boston, and new each month.

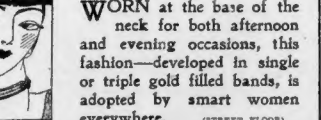

This month's group includes frocks for formal and informal wear with that air of chic which one associates with "Franchette."

"Franchette" modes now developed in very smart coats, $44

A New Jewelry Mode—the Necklet!

A MODERN replica of the slave collars of ancient Greece and Rome retains the exquisite art of the times with a wholly modern lure!

$3.00

WORN at the base of the neck for both afternoon and evening occasions, this fashion—developed in single or triple gold filled bands, is adopted by smart women everywhere.

Legal stamps given and redeemed

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY

The Charles E. Masons of Exeter Street Give Ball for 'Deb' Daughter

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES E. MASON'S ball at the Hotel Somerset in honor of their debutante daughter, Miss Harriet T. Mason, was a gay affair of the late season quite essentially a "Young Set" in its stamp, although some two score fond parents and other distinguished elders formed a very interested cordon about the brilliant ballroom.

THE MTD OF THE OCCASION was most becomingly frocked in white, and she was with her, the red-velvet skirt lifted a bit from its sweeping folds to reveal white satin shoes. A fillet of brilliant round hair and her bouquet was of gardenia set into a fringe of feathery fern.

GARDENIAS WERE THE BADGE of office for the well set up and most efficient usher squad, whose leader was J. Dudley Clark, Jr., Assistant were Frederick A. Clark, Frederick Roberts, Brian Paul, Thornton E. L. Coudge, Lawrence Coudge, George Murgie and Gardner Emmola.

ALSO, IN THE CORPS were Robert Foster, Jr., J. Holland Reed, Moore Williams, Jr., George Francis Chandler Robbins, Brooks Potter, Richard Whiting, Gardner Cox, Lawrence Batchelder, Nathaniel Taylor, Charles Gowing, Charles Maurice, Harriet Foster, Stephen Van Rensselaer and Duncan Taylor.

THEY AND A BEVY of pretty girls in dinner gowns of Mr. and Mrs. Mason at their Exeter street home prior to the dance. Dance frocks at the beautiful ball were gay creations blending freshness and beauty.

MISS VIRGINIA ROBERTS' gown was white crepe with a frock of pointed gossamer marking the hem and a swirl of silver tissue for banding. Mrs. Corolla Clark's gown was a sheath of gold mesh fabric, with shoulder straps of brilliant and a chub of velvet and mesh tulle at one side.

JUST THE COLOR of a lagoon sail on tropic waters was the velvet worn by Miss Sally Robins. Miss Harriet Ballou was in pompadour tulle bound with black velvet. Miss Grace Cushing wore a dress of new leaf green and Miss Eleanor Mason tinsel of the honored debutante, a smart affair combining silver cloth and black velvet.

VERY SMART was Miss Ellen H. Hallowell's black velvet, also Miss Helen Jackson's velvet of the same rich hue, set off with a swirl of silver lace for its flouncy hem. Miss Nancy Olive Moore wore a collar and necktie she affects for evening smart. Her gown designed in sky blue tulle.

A ROSE DE STYLE, in white tulle and tulle and quite without a touch of color, was the gown worn by Miss Winthrop. Dressed in the classic dress and gown, and Miss Sally Parker wore a smart little frock of tulle and gold done after the famous model Paris like for the debutante.

MISS FRANCESCA BARTOLI, in a gold tulle and tulle frock, Miss Catherine Robb in tulle and tulle and tulle, Miss Emily Clark in tulle and tulle, Miss Helen Reed in sea shell tulle, and Miss Isabel Thorne in coral velvet banding with brilliant and tulle draped were conspicuous in the dance.

DAIMETTO GREEN crepe with velvet flowers, worn by Miss Helen Reed, rose leaf satin and silk, a frock from the sort of tulle on the dance floor, and Miss Evelyn Cummings, the Emily Coudge's multi-tinted sea and Miss Isabel Thorne's Ming green lent enchantment to a little scene.

ALSO, THE FROCK FROM the sort of tulle on the dance floor, and Miss Evelyn Cummings, the Emily Coudge's multi-tinted sea and Miss Isabel Thorne's Ming green lent enchantment to a little scene.

HERE AND THERE a black gown gave emphasis to the change of gorgeous blue and set off its wearer as only black can, such was the gown Miss Frances Hallowell wore, of black lace and tulle, and that of Miss Josephine Reed, here a misty black of smart simplicity.

OF THE MATRONS of distinction appearing to do the evitable honor, Mrs. Nathaniel Taylor in beaded smoke blue crepe, Mrs. Harold Jefferson Coudge in tulle and black and beaded straps, Mrs. Charles Hallowell in emerald green velvet and Mrs. Ralph Reed in pompadour satin, stood forth.

MRS. ALEXANDER WHITE, who was in pale pink tulle.

Photograph by Zimmon

MRS. HENRY W. MINOT joins the ranks of young matrons lending their support to aid the campaign now being waged by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Cliffen handed in crystal beads, Mrs. John Hermann were a rich ruby velvet. Mrs. John Reed Port a multi-hued velvet and the pearl dog, Mrs. Nancy Olive Moore wore a collar and necktie she affects for evening smart. Her gown designed in sky blue tulle.

OF SOFT DAWN PINK was the gown worn by Mrs. H. Hallowell. Dressed in the classic dress and gown, and Miss Sally Parker wore a smart little frock of tulle and gold done after the famous model Paris like for the debutante.

VERY HANDSOME, indeed, was Mrs. Charles Mason, the hostess, in a rich, costume of metal fabric.

An Ideal Suite for a Small Apartment

$69.50

During our February sale a vast amount of goods may be bought at 50% to 60% reduction. It will pay you to hurry along through our four floors.

An idea of our startling modernity. A refined and graceful 3-piece living room set, upholstered in JACQUARD velvet, with a set of withstanding generations of use, can be bought now, on easy terms for $69.50.

Another beautiful specimen. Gracefully carved 3-piece hardwood dining room set, with a set of withstanding generations of use, can be bought now, on easy terms for $9.95.

A limited stock of these roomy, hardwood bedrooms, with the finest of the most beautiful fabrics among bedroom sets, now opportunity.

Arnold's
Liberal Credit Terms
TAKE TUNNEL CAR TO MASSACHUSETTS STATION
1121-1118 Boylston Street, Back Bay
OPEN EVENINGS TUESDAY AND SATURDAY TILL NINE

FR. CORRIGAN TO GIVE LENTEN SERIES

Will Preach Sunday Evenings at Church of Immaculate Conception

By JAMES WALSH

The Rev. James I. Corrigan, R. C., of Boston College, will give the Lenten Conference this year at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Harrison avenue. The sermons will be preached every Sunday evening, the general subject being, "Modern Social Institutions and the Social Reign of Jesus Christ." On Sunday, Feb. 15, the sermon will be on "Christ's Reign and Modern Morality." Sunday, Feb. 22, "Christ's Reign and Modern Industry." Sunday, March 14, "Christ's Reign and Modern Education."

The monthly meeting of the Margaret Brewster Club will be held at the Boston Art Club, No. 150 Newbury street, tomorrow night. Lady Whitbread Elmer will be the guest of honor and speaker at the evening. Her subject will be, "English Women in the Life." The musical entertainment will be furnished by Miss Phoebe Herman, accompanied by Miss M. O'Brien. Other prominent guests will include Mrs. Frances E. Skelton, president of the League of Catholic Women; Mrs. Maurice Curran and Mrs. Mary Moore Avery.

The next regular meeting of Brookline Court No. 26, Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, will be held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 16, in St. Lawrence Hall, Chestnut Hill. A large class of candidates will be initiated. The meeting will be followed by a whist party for the members. January Court No. 261, M. C. O. F., has changed the place of meeting from C. Hall, Jamaica Plain, to Boylston Hall, No. 274 Amory street. The meetings of the court will be held on the first and third Thursdays of each month. The next meeting of Fenwick Court No. 2 will be held in Dominican Hall, No. 11A Green street, West End, tonight. The committee on good of the order has arranged a vocal and instrumental entertainment to follow the meeting. The Boston College Debating Club and the Boston College Glee Club will entertain the members and friends of Paul Sheridan Court No. 71 of Newburyport on Sunday evening, February 14. German Court No. 23 will hold a whist and dancing party in Casino Hall, Somerset avenue, on Tuesday evening, February 16. John A. Miller is chairman of the committee of arrangements. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Augusta Miller, chief ranger; Richard O'Connell, vice-chief ranger; Mrs. Fred Paulsen, senior conductor, and appt Chief Rangers Mrs. Mary C. Reilly, Mrs. Pauline Asher, John M. Schell and Bernard Goner.

Attorney Charles E. Fay will address the Common Cause Forum on Sunday night in Franklin Union Hall, Berkeley street, South End, on the subject, "Who Wants a Union of Church and State?" Mr. Fay will also give an exposé of misrepresentation regarding what the hierarchy have said about the church and the State, which has been one of the alleged causes for the organization of anti-Catholic societies. A discussion of the subject by persons in the audience is scheduled to follow the lecture of the evening. Lieutenant Joseph J. Hurley will preside.

Court Nativity, Catholic Daughters of America, will have its annual banquet tonight at Hotel Bellevue. Miss Helen Murdoch will be the chairman. Miss Anna Hogan and Miss May McGee are assisting.

Morgan at Trinidad
Port of Spain, Trinidad, Feb. 11 (A.P.)—J. P. Morgan of New York has arrived here on the yacht Corsair.

Emmett Petite Grand

HERE is the opportunity for which you have been looking—and the beautiful Grand Piano for which you have been longing. The price, $575, is a pleasing appeal to your sense of economy. The piano itself is a strong appeal to your sense of beauty and to your desire for the artistic.

$575

This Piano is Fully Guaranteed. Correspondence Solicited. Exclusive New England Distributors.

Radio ATWATER-KENT RADIO SETS
Unexcelled for Purity of Tone and Selectivity
ATTRACTIVE TIME PAYMENTS IF DESIRED

Vose & Sons Piano Co.
160 Boylston St. Est. 1851

SKI MARATHONERS RACE ON WITH FROZEN FACES

Poland Spring, Me., Feb. 11 (U.N.R.)—Faces frozen and nearly exhausted, Holmer Oakland and Robert Reid, both of Berlin, N. H., engaged in a ski marathon—a 100-mile trip from Portland, Me., to Berlin—held over the great snow drifts.

BE A BOSTON BOOSTER

Used in Preparatory School, College, Theological Seminary and in Ministerial Work

Rev. L. P. Zook, pastor of Mt. Zion M. E. Church, Manayunk, Philadelphia, Pa., writes about his 23-year old Waterman's. He says:

"Gentlemen: I am writing to you, using an 'Ideal' which I purchased 23 years ago. Since that time I have used it almost daily. I used it for taking notes in shorthand during four years in Preparatory School, four years in College, and three years in Theological Seminary. It is the best pen I have ever owned or used. It is good for another 13 years, I am sure."

"I simply want to say this word of appreciation for your products. I always advise my friends to buy a Waterman's 'Ideal'."

Thousands of other Waterman's pen users have written equally complimentary letters about Waterman's pens; they always satisfy.

You will understand why Waterman's so perfectly please those who use them if you will step into the store of a nearby merchant and let him show you the model illustrated and explain its advantages. Waterman's are made with different sized holders to fit different sized hands; fitted with different styles of pen points to suit different styles of writing.

Waterman's Fountain Pen

L. E. Waterman Company
40 School St., Boston
New York; Chicago; San Francisco; Montreal

400

See how amazingly white your week's wash now becomes

~in half the time
no washboard rubbing

WOMEN everywhere are astonished at the new kind of soap that washes clothes by gently soaking out the dirt. It gets the family wash whiter than ever, without hard rubbing—and with absolute safety to clothes.

Rinso is an entirely new kind of soap—granulated. It dissolves quickly and loosens the ground-in dirt. It is all you need on washday, even in hardest water.

Just soak the wash in Rinso soda—overnight or an hour or two in the morning. Then rinse—and the clothes are whiter, sweeter, cleaner than you could ever rub them! Dirt and stains float off in the soaking. Even the most soiled places need only a gentle rub between the fingers to make them spotless.

Saves hands — saves clothes
No laundry soap is easier on hands or safer to use than Rinso. It contains no acids, harsh chemicals or bleaches—nothing to injure white clothes or fast colors.

Rinso makes clothes last longer—because it ends the wear and tear of washboard scrubbing.

Fine for washing machines
Rinso gives wonderful results in the washing machine. Recommended by 23 leading washing machine manufacturers for safety, and for a whiter, brighter wash. Fine for boiling—though boiling isn't necessary, as Rinso sterilizes as it washes. Get Rinso, for small cost, from your grocer. Follow directions on package.

Mrs. Elin C. Crawford, of Somerville, says:

"I never had to do any washing until I married. Therefore I did not know what a hard task it was—without proper methods."

"I thought to myself there must be some easier way. I knew Mother always used Rinso and so I tried it. It's wonderful how little effort it takes to make the clothes clean and white."

"Now I wouldn't be without Rinso—it not only soaks out the dirt but it is absolutely harmless to all clothes—even the best. Rinso gives me the best value for my money."

MRS. ELIN C. CRAWFORD
74 Avon Street,
Somerville, Mass.

Millions use Rinso. Thousands write us letters like this

Rinso
Takes the place of bar soap
No Scrubbing

Wedding Rings
Solid 14 and 18-K Gold, Platinum and White Gold
$5 to $15 in Gold
$30 to $40, Platinum
E.B. Horn & Co.
Open Saturday Evenings
429 Washington St.
Jewelers for 57 Years

20 FLEE AS TWO HOUSES BURN IN FITCHBURG

Blaze Starting in Vacant Building Threatens High School

Fitchburg, Feb. 11.—Fire which swept through two three-story tenements early today drove 20 persons to the streets in scanty attire and destroyed the two buildings.

The fire started in an untenanted building, probably from coals left in a stove used by workmen, who were repairing the place.

The building, located on Highland court, near the Fitchburg High School was owned by William S. Searles.

The flames soon leaped to the next house, which was tenanted by 20 persons.

They all managed to make their way to safety and were taken into the homes of neighbors.

The firemen had a hard fight to reach the scene of the fire because of the recent snow drifts.

Word spread about the city that the high school was ablaze and hundreds made their way to the scene of the fire.

Neighbors made coffee and sandwiches for the firemen during the height of the blaze.

The loss is estimated at about $10,000.

HUB-LYNN CANAL PLAN AND SPONSOR

Here is the route of the canal which Fred S. Elwell, in inset, urged on a legislative committee at the State House, as a means of developing Greater Boston. Mr. Elwell, a Boston and Malden insurance man, also advocates bringing the railroads into a union station under the Common

CANAL PLANNED TO JOIN LYNN AND BOSTON

Business men of communities lying north and northeast of Boston were discussing with intense interest today the vision of a canal connecting Boston and Lynn harbors, with industries springing up on its banks, as outlined to a legislative committee at the State House by Fred S. Elwell, Boston and Malden insurance man.

Among other amazing developments, the plan which Elwell described includes the building of an "ideal city" on the marsh land surrounding the Myrtle and Malden rivers.

A population of 6,000,000 would be living in metropolitan Boston by the year 1,000, according to Elwell. Incident to the construction of the canal would be the relocation of railroad lines and highways, and the possible use of the present railroad beds as State roads, the railroad route being electrified and brought into Boston in tunnels under the rivers.

The canal would connect Boston with Lynn by way of the Myrtle River, the Malden River, through Revere and Saugus to the Saugus River, and thence to Lynn harbor.

This is the specific part of the broader program which Elwell urges at present, with later development of the general plan which, as well as improvement of the suburban territory affected by the canal, calls for a great railroad union station in Boston under the Common and Public Gardens.

Hot Lemonade Tonight!

—No Cold In The Morning

INFLUENZA epidemics proved to thousands that the good, old-fashioned hot lemonade is an effective preservative against colds.

As soon as you suspect a cold—when you feel that warning chill or begin to sneeze—try this pleasant drink. Drink it as hot as you can stand it.

Then take a warm bath and get into bed with plenty of warm covers. You'll feel better in the morning. Millions stop colds in this way.

Repeat again the next night if the cold symptoms have not entirely disappeared.

The effectiveness of hot lemonade in the prevention or treatment of a cold is due to more than its heat.

Children should have this hot drink after playing outdoors in the cold. If their feet are wet, an old-fashioned hot lemonade is the best preservative.

Prevent serious consequences by this simple, easy method. Take these precautionary measures at the start of the cold.

Just squeeze the juice of a lemon in glass or cup of hot water. Add sugar if you wish.

California lemons make the best lemonade. They are practically seedless, tart and heavy with acid juice. Buy them at any first-class store. Try the "hot lemonade way" tonight.

When You Feel the Need of a Good Tonic—

PHYSICIANS naturally know best, and for over 33 years physicians have been prescribing Gude's Pepto-Mangan in thousands of cases. Experienced practitioners cannot be deceived by the marvelous claims of so many unscientific preparations. But they know the value of the iron, manganese and predigested albumin in Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

So if you feel the need of a quick and efficient tonic, prescribe Gude's for yourself TODAY. Your druggist has it in both liquid and tablet form.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan
Prescribed by Physicians for 33 Years

MORE FRENCH TROOPS FOR SYRIA REQUESTED

Berlin, Feb. 11.—An army of 100,000 additional men is needed to pacify this country, according to the new French high commissioner, who asked Paris to send him these reinforcements.

Advertisement

COLDS

Break a Cold Right Up With "Pape's Cold Compound"

Druggists guarantee it.

GARMENT WORKERS' CONFAB TOMORROW

The first of a series of conferences between representatives of the Massachusetts Garment Manufacturers Association and local general officers of the International Ladies' Garment Workers in the dress industry of this city will begin tomorrow.

FRAMINGHAM BLAZE DRIVES 80 TO STREET

Framingham, Feb. 11.—Thirty persons were obliged to flee into the street when fire swept through the French block at Columbia and Irving streets here, causing damage of $1,500.

FOR Sour Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

BETTER THAN SODA For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

TRY A 25c BOTTLE. Inlet upon "Phillips' Twenty-five cent and fifty-cent bottles, any druggist.

OPEN ALL DAY SATURDAY UNTIL 9 P. M.

HAINES February Sale

WITH REDUCTIONS IN PRACTICALLY EVERY DEPARTMENT OF 1/2 OR MORE

We will be glad to arrange credit terms on any purchase—the initial payment, too, will be guided to suit your own individual requirements. Let us confer with you on your plans for a Better Home!

3-Piece Cane Living Room
Reduced to $110
A handsome Caneback Secretary that can easily hold a large set of books. Large mirror for the wall. At an exceptionally low price. Formerly $125.00. Now $110.00.

4-Piece Chamber Suite
Reduced to $98
This group is especially comfortable and designed in the popular style. At an exceptionally low price for the quality. Formerly $115.00. Now $98.00.

6 Pieces for the Dining Room
Reduced to $69
A value that is hard to come by. This distinctive suite is very durable, comfortable and was made by one of the best makers in the country. At an exceptionally low price for the quality. Formerly $115.00. Now $69.00.

Radio Value—at Low Cost
HUDSON-SUPER "JUNIOR"
5 TUBE SET $57
No Interest 3 Stages of Tuned Radio Frequency

3-Piece Carved Frame Jacquard Suite
Reduced to $137
A handsome Caneback Secretary that can easily hold a large set of books. Large mirror for the wall. At an exceptionally low price. Formerly $150.00. Now $137.00.

4 Pieces for the Bedroom
Reduced to $159
Very fine chamber furniture, substantially built in Walnut with carved and turned details. The rich antique finish is particularly attractive. Formerly $180.00. Now $159.00.

10-Piece Dining Suite
Reduced to $159
Built of Walnut and other solid woods. One of our most exclusive dining room furniture manufacturers. The rich antique finish is particularly attractive. Formerly $180.00. Now $159.00.

PIANO Values
Trade-In Your Old Piano
Free Music Cabinet
Duet Piano Bench
AYER PIANO ROLLS

WHERE GOOD FURNITURE COSTS LESS
HAINES
HONESTY COURTESY SERVICE
728 WASHINGTON ST.

NIAGARA FALLS
EXCURSION
10.00 ROUND 10.00
TRIP
Saturday, February 20
Tickets sold only on Special Coach
Train leaving Boston Falls P. M.
Returning leave Niagara Falls 9:30
M. Monday, arriving Boston Monday forenoon.
ALL DAY SUNDAY AT THE FALLS
See Niagara in Winter and the Evening Illumination of the Falls
Coach will leave at 10:00 P. M.
BOSTON & ALBANY RAILROAD
(N. Y. C. R. R. Co., Lessee)

BEATRICE BURTON

SECOND SECTION

A Paper That Goes Into the Home, Dependable, Fearless, Entertaining and Instructive.

CONGRESS PROBES AIR FORCE 'MUZZLE'

Early Rush for Tickets to Third Old Time Dance

My stars, Mary Rose! Don't take it so hard

John Manners falls in love with Mary Rose, as he never has been in love before in his life, and tells her so. She is in seventh heaven about it, but her happiness is short-lived. For that night the sisters quarrel, and to get even with Mary Rose, Flossie tells Manners that she is "just stringing him along" and really intends to marry Dr. Tom. Manners believes her convincing lie, and Mary Rose is hurt and puzzled by his coldness. She decides to leave Doctor Tom.

One night DEXTER learns about her husband's affair with Floissie. She mistakes Mary Rose for Floissie, and "bawls her out" before the whole office. Mary Rose takes the blame that should be Floissie's, because she knows that if Sam Jessup finds out about Floissie and Dexter he'll never marry her.

One night Dexter goes too far in his love making and Floissie finds out how little respect a married man has for the girl who runs around with him. Next day she quits her job and elopes with Sam Jessup. She returns from her honeymoon angry with Sam about a hat, and threatening to go back to

(Now Go on With the Story)

Shortage of Bell for Sleights at Lynn

Lynn hardware dealers report a shortage of sleighbells. Owing to the storm, there have appeared on the streets of Lynn a number of sleighs without bells. The dealers promise more bells than have long been customarily for sale in the place.

Both a State law and a city ordinance require that every sleigh shall be equipped with bells before it is shorted.

It is the hope of the police of Lynn that the Legislature will amend the law in order that the city may be relieved of this burden.

back to my boarding house alone. When they all know I'm just mar-

"Why," they said, "if he's dead, why would they kill him?"

"I don't know whether they did or not," Koonce, dazed and staring at the other men, stated in the state.

Sam looked at his petrel and spoke with emphasis, perched upon the bird.

"When I told me, me that I've done to make you a kid like that?" he asked.

"If you still want because I couldn't afford to buy you a $25 bird," he said.

"You must wait."

Sam turned and she heard a bird named at his side.

"You're it," she asked. "Well, me be crazy, but in smart, I can show you what I mean."

"You just keep your darned old money to yourself, I can't afford it, and I'll keep money to myself, too."

Sent Away

She disappeared around the curve of the hill.

"And you even going to know me tonight?" he called after her.

He heard her answer.

"There was no answer but the faintest whisper of her high little hair, followed by the banging of the door, and the sound of a key in a lock."

"Prangi Gown the headdress?"

On the day, Vol. 1

Some of the Story

THEY MUST BE COMING TO THE EASTERN PARTS LINES YOU

OTTO GROW CALLED THE TUN ON THE STORM. AT 3 P.M. YESTERDAY MORNING, BUT HE DIDN'T THINK THERE WOULD BE ANY MORE THIS AFTERNOON.

MUSSOLINI, SHE CRIES;
AND DIES

Marchioness, Sister of Noted Actress, Hangs Self in Berlin

Berlin, Feb. 11 (A.P.)—The body of Marchioness Gabriella Borsini, sister of the German actress, Maria Orska, was found hanging in her room in the Bristol Hotel. The police believe she committed suicide.

The marchioness returned to the hotel after having been ejected from a West End club where she was denied by a waiter who admitted she was not a member.

Her death is being regarded as a tragedy because she was a noted figure in the London and Berlin social scene and was in a tour to the Italian frontier.

The marchioness, nee Brindemann, was usually called the "Red" because she was born at Bakurinatov, Russia.

BIG PEPPERELL
MILL STRIKE
CALLED OFF

SHAME DRIVES WHOLE FAMILY TO SUICIDE

Escondido, Mo. Feb 21 (AP)—The weavers' union voted to call off their strike against the introduction of the multiple mill system in the local plant of the Pepperell Manufacturing Company it was announced today. The strike has been in force since December last.

Under the terms reached to a settlement of the mill management and William E. G. Besty, national secretary of the National Federation of Laborers, the Federal Government is not to discriminate against the striking miners or unionists who supported the strike.

The mill management, on the other hand, is to be allowed to continue to operate the mill. When the terms of the agreement were taken before the miners' representatives at the meeting in Centerville, Iowa, on the night, upon the terms of settlement, the miners' representatives, in company with the mill members with an attempt to force the mill management to accept the terms of the settlement. The mill workers, a branch of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, the union voted to accept the terms of the agreement. Representatives of the mill management, the La Junta, just across the border, sent their parents for a visit to the mill. The mill management and mother, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Parent, were later found in the mill. The mill management is the other day from a gun turned on his children, a son of the mill management, who was later found in the mill. The mill management was later found in the mill. The mill management was later found in the mill.

In addition to the police, the other armed included a cafe proprietor, a driver and the mill manager of a Tupperware.

Representative Rodriguez of the northern district of Lower California has been charged with the duty of punishing the guilty persons are punished.

Motor Inventor Dead

St. Louis, Mo., June 10. — Dr. Alphonse Belmont, whom the French died at Vezeronne today penniless.

CALL DAVIS
TO EXPLAIN
'GAGGING'

QUEEN'S C
RECEIVED APRIL 20 1968
by Charles Queen

WOMEN ARE

INSTINCTIVELY a woman is for Peace. She is not always peaceful, but for all that peace is her ideal!

I have been accused of all sorts of things in my life. But nothing

[illegible]

When talking things have been said to me by an "old-timer" in the ranks. He says they were being threatened with "Guns" for telling tales out of school. A smouldering fire of resentment against the alleged "slandering" of the military authorities had been fanned into flame by progress.

STAFF STEPS CONGRATULATIONS

Meanwhile the secret hostility between the army and navy had been increasing. The navy was being drawn into the Balkan Kings. Clearer characters were drawn of me, some good-natured, some full of venom, and carefully sent me, of course, un-

The House Military Affairs Committee, originally a conservative organization, was the body which took upon

INFORMATION FOR THE PRESS

Q. Did you complain to the Secretary about his investigation?

A. Yes, endeavoring to determine if he was violating the Constitution.

DID YOU EVER SEE A
 SNOW STORM THAT A
 FLOWER PRINCE WOULD NOT GO OUT IN?
 ANYONE DID WE.

ALL DO THE SAME THING CHUCK,
 AGIN, OVER AGIN,
 DO THE SAME THING DANNY,
 AN OVER AGIN.
 WITH ONE QUELITTLE SNOW-STOP,
 I'LED IT ALL OFF, AN THEN—
 DAFY DO UN TRING
 NIGEL SWING,
 AN CAN UN LIGHN,

IF I KNEW ONLY
 ABOUT BOSTON
 I'D HAVE SHUT REUSE
 TOWN IN
 TOWN IN

BOSTON
 YOU

YOU'RE
 CANCELED

OTTO WAS FIRED WITH A
 BIG AMMUNITION YESTERDAY.

COUNSEL

LAST OFFICE

PEACE

With the God Man as my partner,
I shared to the teeth, he was trying to beat peaceful me. But I was unbeatable because I belong to the caricature I held all the kings in my hand.

With the war the war must rule

laugh, discuss, or express their opinion of the prize according to its merit. I repeat that all women are free to do so, by womanly manners, her husband's presence and the fact that she prefers to save.
She is 35 years to give happiness, to share happiness,
and where else
shall she be happy? It is a small wa-derway thing
that makes happy
life possible.
There are many who in which we women
can help
each other, but there is not any one who can help
each other.

our daughters
to Balkan
Kings, can we?
But we can spread good feeling amongst all by coming together and showing each other, by being interested in each other and sympatetic toward superficial differences. We can, through love, influence those who are ready for force to be good. We can put in our word.

and your children's behavior as well as courage, and stand ready to do any work that has Peace for its object. Our "international" need not wave a blood-red flag.

Use duplicate card.

WILL SEE

[illegible]

BE A BOSTON BOOSTER IN STORM

By Collier

.....

And That's That

By BILL CONSELMAN
and CHARLIE PLUM

A Bad Night

"Why not turn aviator?" said Pop.

"It wouldn't be the first time an aeroplane smuggled fire water," livery interrupted.

"But aeroplanes are so expensive," I argued.

"He didn't have time for this lightweight until long afterward, was too busy just then for anything but a sensational getaway. I could see ourselves facing a local jail in the morning. It was then 3 a. or later.

"My first arrest," I thought, I must have uttered the words aloud.

that I became one of the inner circle club. Twenty dollars cleared the way on the Canadian side this trip and we travelled an unfrequented road—which enabled us to avoid the American border patrol—as we thought.

It was a bad night. The roads were slippery, after a heavy rain and a land for made matters worse.

Danger Looms

Around the next bend we caught sight of a river and ahead one of those quaint covered bridges so peculiar to New Hampshire.

I nearly lost my breath at the sight that met our gaze. At the other end of the bridge, their uni-

Shrimp Means Business

By McNamars

I WANT YOU TO TELL ME ALL THE REASONS WHY YOU DON'T BRING MEA THAT FLOWER EVERY DAY!

ALL OF EM!

YES, ALL OF EM!

THAT'S OK!

NO NOBODY'S ON THE LEVEL ABOUT THAT!

J. R. Jones

Life's Little Jokes—No. 708,991

By Rube Goldberg

A cartoon illustration of a boy in a plaid shirt and shorts standing next to a large pile of cardboard boxes. One box is labeled "BONNY & MARY".

Speculating With Death

By Chester Gould

HA HA • ONCE WE GETS DOWN THERE AMONGST
THOSE DECAYED SUP-PORTS • WE'LL NEVER COME UP.

SO SUDDEN

has simply looked those plans over and said, "I don't see any reality."

"Now you set up to that nice young chap in your office. He is going to be a big success," she told her.

That "you'll be house-burned" thing.

When they looked up at her quickly, "It couldn't marry a man like Tom. We haven't the same class about it. He is always wanting to go to dances and he spends his money on his clothes. He is not the kind that new reader of his on Time. There's too much Scotch Irish in me. I don't like to marry a man with that kind of a cold-blooded greediness." "I'm too sentimental and I don't like to marry a man who put up a sign for sale on that car." "I'm going to get a car for a garden for you." "I don't want that. I want to be fun and so no one could get on my nerves." "I will make for them when they move in."

Asked About Her

Mrs. Moore never told her that a young man named Edward had come over to ask her who had started the "house-burned" thing. It was she who had rooted her to spread his asked Ellen solicitously. "You-you look so unhappy." "I am," confessed Mrs. Moore.

"I have been thinking of Mr.
Matheson. 'Well,' she said, her anger swelling within her, 'I know Mr. Matheson will bring his wife to the house next time.' That was the last word she uttered, and concluded. A man thirty-five, if not thirty, years of age, running around looking at housewives, and making love to them!"
Ellen laughed shakily. Then ran out. "Dear Mrs. Moore, he's little less than a fool, isn't he?" "He is not a fool, hasn't any wife. You know that," said Mrs. Moore.
"He's a little house—just think of that!"
Mrs. Moore was still staring. Her eyes were fixed on the door.
"You've made the garden for himself," she wanted you to furnish his man—"

"For—for you, Mr. too," said Mrs. Moore. "I don't know what attempts to break the wonderful!"
Mrs. Moore's face became instantly pale. "I don't know what he's doing," she exclaimed, realizing even as she spoke that words were being tradition, the bride—
only one who really ought to make

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Dressmaker Is Good to Jiggs

By George McManus

POLLY AND HER PALS

Long-Distance Bravery

By Cliff Sterrett

COOK-DOOS

by Ted Look

SOLICITORS and bill collectors are organizing a national association "to fix the standards of ethics and promote proper respect from the public."

These boys will probably ask us to contribute—

Bigger and Better Door Bell Work

And get City Council to pass an ordinance forcing everybody to place a door bell push button on the front gate.

ryde in New York Sunday afternoon.

It would be of interest to have a race between a turtle and a Huntington Avenue surface car.

Friend, shed a tear
For an officer brave,
Once high in the army,
Now low in the grove.
He said: "Mitchell is wrong!"
As he rose in a plane;
He said: "Mitchell is right!"
As he came down again.
—J. W. R. H.

Kansas City, Mo.—Robert Clark, treasurer, was sent to jail today in default of $12,000 bond on a charge of stealing five cents.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS
Take off those glasses!

Keep moving, please.

SMART SAYINGS OF CLEVER CHILDREN

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for published smart sayings. Address "Smart Sayings," Boston Evening American.

Joe—Some day I am going to be in the fifth grade.

Tom—Yes, but that'll be a long time yet.

Joe—We have numbers and pay in the bank.

Tom—You don't have numbers yet, have you had decimals?

Joe—Decimals!

Tom—Yeah, decimals, and you ever had decimals?

Joe—Oh, no, I've only had the zoodles.

MISS LENA SOUZA, 23 Penn Ave., Lowell, Mass.

BLACK CATS

BACKACHE GONE!

Kilgus doing duty. Bladder function corrected. Pain, stiffness, aching, stopped. Balmwort Tablets did it!

"I had backaches and nerve pains for weeks. At last I was able to sleep because of Balmwort Tablets. I feel like a new man."

—and they I never told any medicine that gave such wonderful relief to enable me to get on my feet. I feel like a new man."

—Gladys A. B. Balmwort, 1000 N. 1st St., Minneapolis, Minn.

One 100 for postage paid. Balmwort Tablets are sold in 100's—each 100's in a separate box. Leading druggists everywhere.

BALMWORT TABLETS

For Colds

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for "Best Joke" published. Address "Best Joke," Boston Evening American.

Bill—I've got a new dog down at my house.

Ernie—Toe. What's his name?

Bill—"Ginger."

Ernie—"Does Ginger Me?"

Bill—"No, Ginger Me!"

ERNEST W. COOMBS.

BALMWORT

For Colds

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for "Best Joke" published. Address "Best Joke," Boston Evening American.

Bill—I've got a new dog down at my house.

Ernie—Toe. What's his name?

Bill—"Ginger."

Ernie—"Does Ginger Me?"

Bill—"No, Ginger Me!"

ERNEST W. COOMBS.

BALMWORT

For Colds

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for "Best Joke" published. Address "Best Joke," Boston Evening American.

Bill—I've got a new dog down at my house.

Ernie—Toe. What's his name?

Bill—"Ginger."

Ernie—"Does Ginger Me?"

Bill—"No, Ginger Me!"

ERNEST W. COOMBS.

BALMWORT

For Colds

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for "Best Joke" published. Address "Best Joke," Boston Evening American.

Bill—I've got a new dog down at my house.

Ernie—Toe. What's his name?

Bill—"Ginger."

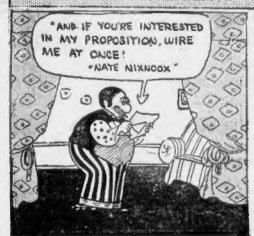

Ernie—"Does Ginger Me?"

Bill—"No, Ginger Me!"

ERNEST W. COOMBS.

BALMWORT

ABIE THE AGENT

High Finance

By Hershfield

Skippy

Bath Scars Him

By Percy Crosby

FOXY GRANDPA AND HIS INTERESTING DAILY BEDTIME STORY

No Indigestion!

Stuart's DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

PAZO Ointment

Keep Your Bowels Open and Your Feet Dry

Dr. True's Elixir

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

Safe

Safe

the harbor of Tripoli, forced to surrender.
(Another installment of "The Luck of 'Old Ironsides'" will be printed in tomorrow's Boston Evening Anglian.)

